PRESIDENT FULLY INFORMED ON THE
TREATY SITUATION AND ALL OTHER
MATTERS BEFORE THE NATION TODAYDICTATES LENGTHY LETTER TO SECRETARY
LANE TO BE USED TO HOLD
CONFERENCE IN LINE

DID NOT REST WELL LAST NIGHT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—President Wilson has been informed of the treaty situation in the Senate through a letter from Senator Hitchcock, it was learned at the White House today. Wilson has been advised of other matters such as the threatened coal strike and the deadlock in the industrial conference by means of reports from Secretary Tumulty.

His physicians were hopeful today that no further complications like the gland swelling and indigestion from which he has suffered would again appear and hinder his progress toward recovery. Both these ailments responded to treatment. The President's general condition improves and he is gaining strength. He is resting well, has a good appetite and is gaining in strength. His condition this morning continues the same according to official information in advance of the statement of his physician.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—President Wilson did not seem so well last night but his condition was improved this morning according to a bulletin issued by his physician at 11:30 a. m. today. "The President's condition remains the same as before. A chemical examination of the blood shows the kidneys to be functioning normal. He was not so well last night but showed no signs of fatigue this morning."

The President insisted on writing a letter to Secretary Lane with regard to the threatened disruption of the industrial conference. His physicians advised against it but were compelled to yield. Both because of the President's wishes and the pressure brought to bear by high officials of the government for him to take a hand. The President was not fatigued by his efforts in writing the letter according to Grayson. This was a surprise in view of the fact that Wilson did not sleep well during the night.

Interest of the President in the industrial conference does not mean any general resumption of work will be permitted, Grayson said. The prescription of a complete and absolute rest will remain in force except in matters of unusual moment where executive action is imperative he declared.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—President Wilson today drafted a letter to the Industrial Conference. Secretary Lane, chairman of the conference, said he expected to read the letter to the conference before the noon adjournment. The nature of the letter was not stated in advance but it was expected to advocate that the conference get together in the fact of the country's serious industrial situation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—President Wilson's letter to the Industrial Conference is with regard to the disrupting of the conference it was said at the White House today. The letter which is 2 1/2 typewritten pages was dictated by the President from his bed. He signed it with a lead pencil.

The letter is considered private from the President to Lane, but Lane may use it if he considers it wise. Lane, he said, would use his discretion about reading the letter to the conference. It was written on the theory, he said, that there was some danger of certain members or elements in the conference disrupting it and it was written to prevent that. Personally, he said he did not feel any real danger of it and said it might not be necessary to read the letter.

CAPTURE OF PETROGRAD PROGRESSES
NEAREST REPORT TO CONFIRMATION

LONDON, Oct. 21—The capture of Petrograd is progressing favorably for the anti-Bolshevik forces according to official and semi-official dispatches received here today. A statement of the British war office said the capture of Datchina and Krasnos to the southwest had been confirmed and that a cavalry detachment has completed the work of going to Petrograd for communication with the interior. The Bolsheviks continue to increase their stores of ammunition and guns.

LONGSHOREMEN STILL ON STRIKE

NEW YORK, Oct. 21—Despite the efforts of Mayor Hylan to settle the strike of the longshore men here yesterday and last night the strike today appeared even further from a solution than at any time since the strike began.

TUBERCULOSIS
DRIVE

Announced Last Evening That
Dr. McGrea, Authority on
Disease, Will Talk Here

MASS MEETING NOV. 13TH.

At a meeting of the publicity committee for the coming drive against tuberculosis in the High School auditorium last evening, plans were formulated whereby the lecture to be given by Dr. McGrea on November 13th will be given the widest publicity locally and in the surrounding territory.

Dr. C. C. Reeve, as chairman of the meeting, outlined the purpose of the County Medical Society in getting Dr. McGrea here. The meeting was then turned into a round table discussion of the situation and short talks were made by Drs. Quigley, Gorlon, Frantz, Reiley and Bailey.

Dr. Gordon, as the local representative of the State Board of Health, gave some statistics that were both enlightening and at the same time alarming. He stated that in the commonwealth of Pennsylvania there were 125,000 cases of tuberculosis, in various stages, under the supervision of the state board. These cases, he continued, were only those that had been brought under the board's jurisdiction and there was positively no accurate knowledge of how many persons afflicted with the White Plague who were at large and who were spreading the dread scourge throughout the state. Assuming that Clearfield was not more immune to the disease than any other community and basing his estimate on population Dr. Gordon stated that there must be at least 1250 cases of tuberculosis in Clearfield county, and that at least 1150 cases were in the advanced stages.

Following Dr. Gordon, Dr. McGrea outlined the purpose of Dr. McGrea's talk. It will be the purpose of the coming lecturer, who is one of the most, if not the most, eminent authority on tuberculosis in the state, to outline how tuberculosis may be prevented and how this dread disease that is taking greater toll of human lives in this state every year than was lost during the late war, could be stamped out of this community.

There were representatives of all but three of Clearfield's industrial plants present and the following men were named as a committee to spread the propaganda of the coming lecture:

S. T. McClure will have charge of the industries.
Prof. Kopp the Public Schools.
Charles T. Kurtz, Commercial houses.

Rev. W. W. Hartman, Churches.
C. P. Disher, Railroad and Shopmen.
J. Vail, Trammien and Parochial Schools.

Matt Savage, general publicity and newspaper.

There was also present a representative of the organizing force of the Red Cross Society, who outlined the good to be accomplished in anti-tuberculosis work by the employment of a Community Nurse. He urged that in connection with the coming campaign, that Clearfield bend every

BURGESS CHASE
WARNS AGAINST
UNLAWFUL PLAY

During the past two or three weeks numerous complaints have been lodged with borough officials on the conduct of young people who have a wrong conception of the proper method to celebrate the Halloween season. Property has been destroyed and many unsightly and soap and chalk have been used to write vulgar sentiments and phrases on windows and side walks. The Progress has received no less than a dozen calls from people who have stood as much of this thing as they can and who wanted something published which would have a restraining effect on "Young America."

We would not deny any red-blooded youngster the right to do a little bit of devilment on Halloween and are inclined to shut one eye on such occasions but it appears that many have overstepped the mark already this year and in so doing they have deprived themselves, and others of a real good time later on as the Burgess says the expensive fun must stop. He issued a proclamation which is published in the following paragraphs:

PROCLAMATION!

TO PARENTS AND CHILDREN

Having received a number of complaints from good citizens in various sections of our city as to the mischievous actions of young people who have been committing depredations of one kind or another, destroying and mutilating property under the excuse of Halloween, I hereby give notice that such deplorable conduct has forced me to decide to enforce law and order and as parents are responsible for the acts of their children I give them this due warning that those over twenty years of age will be responsible themselves for any unlawful acts. Such disgraceful conduct must stop at once or we will be compelled to punish the offenders.

We do not wish to place costs on anyone, therefore to avoid this unpleasant duty we desire that all parents warn their children of the consequences of unlawful acts and save costs, expenses and unpleasantness.

Yours for the public good
JOHN M. CHASE, Burgess

STOCK OPENINGS

NEW YORK—Practically all leading issues showed fractional increases at the stock market opening. United States Steel opened at 10 1/8 up 1/4, Bethlehem B at 10 3/4 up 1/4, Baltimore at 14 3/8 up 1/8, Studebaker at 14 1/2 up 1/4, Mexican Petroleum at 2 1/4 up 1/8.

FITZPATRICK AT WASHINGTON TO
ENLIST AID OF BROTHERHOODS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—John Fitzpatrick, leader in the steel strike, arrived here this morning for a conference tonight with the heads of the four big railroad brotherhoods who are here to attend the national industrial conference. Fitzpatrick, it is understood, plans to ask assistance from the brotherhoods. Railroad chiefs refused to discuss Fitzpatrick's action. They indicated, however, that it would be useless for him to ask for a sympathetic walk out by all railroad workers.

ATTENTION RED CROSS MEMBERS

All persons who have contributed $100 to the Red Cross of this District are members of the Clearfield Chapter, and they are therefore entitled to a vote, and are urged to attend the annual meeting for the election of officers at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

BORO REPUBLICANS
MEET AT COURT
HOUSE TONIGHT

Clearfield Borough Republicans will open the campaign with a meeting in the Arbitration room of the Court House tonight at which plans will be laid for a vigorous campaign to be waged between now and November 4th, the date of the general election. It is expected that owing to the increased Republican registration there will be considerable interest manifested by party workers and one of the biggest local meetings ever held is confidently looked for tonight. The increased registration indicates that the thinking men of the county are accepting Republican doctrine and those who have been Republicans have had many experiences recently which have tended to strengthen their faith. Primarily the meeting tonight is for the Vigilance committee but Chairman, A. R. Chase wants to see every Republican in the borough and will make them all welcome if they turn out tonight. No doubt many of the candidates will be present and there will be speechmaking and a generally enjoyable evening.

BOB'S COMING BACK AT LAST

R. L. Wallace, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wallace, and one of the very last Clearfield boys to be released from army duty with the A. E. F., landed at Camp Merritt, N. J., yesterday. Bob was on duty at a large German prison camp and his gang of undesirable had to be railroaded back to homeland before he could even think of gazing upon our "rocks and rills" and glorious "temple hills." He expects to get home in a day or two.

Charles T. Kurtz, as a member of the executive committee of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, stated in a spirited talk that there was a vast sum of money in the treasury of the Clearfield chapter that could be devoted to the work of eradicating not only tuberculosis but other diseases and urged that a movement be started to utilize these funds for the purpose of securing a good community nurse who would make regular visits to the homes of those not living under proper sanitary conditions and teaching them how to live so that diseases that are entirely avoidable might be stamped out.

Secretary Wilson
Urges Conciliation
In Mine Dispute

Mine Workers Leaders Firm In Demand That All Points Be Conciliated In New Scale

OPERATORS MEET HERE TODAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—Miners and operators were to go into conference with Secretary of Labor Wilson today. Wilson hopes to bring about some agreement. The meeting today is between the miners and the operator's scale committee of the central competitive field comprising Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania.

A compromise to avert the coal strike threatened for November 1, was suggested by Secretary of Labor Wilson to operators and miners who met here today. Wilson urged that the delegates present show a conciliatory spirit, declaring a coal strike would hamper the industries of the nation.

The miners declared they would stick to their demands for a 60 per cent. wage increase six hour day and a five day week.

Operators who held a meeting here yesterday and last night said they could not concede to the demands.

Wilson said he hoped to bring about a basis for negotiations.

The threatened coal strike to take place on November 1st has resulted in more or less activity in coal trade circles. Already we find dealers in cities bidding for coal and offering higher prices for it which will have no other effect than to increase prices again to the consumer of the coal or the consumer of goods to manufacture which coal is used.

The United Mine Workers of this district are in convention at Johnstown today being exhorted to by their leaders to stand firm in their demands for a sixty per cent. increase in wages and not only a six hour day but a five day week as well.

The Operators Association of this Central Field are in session today at the headquarters here in Clearfield. It is said that the session is marked by one of the largest turnouts in the history of the organization. Nothing is given out for publication but it is understood that the meeting is held not for the purpose of taking action on the demand of the miners singly or as a whole, but for the purpose of getting the sentiment of the members as to course of procedure in meeting the demands made by the miners. A perplexing problem before the operators is how far they can go toward giving ear to the miners while the war time contract is in force. Many contend that on account of the government being a party to the contract no move can be made without the consent of the third party. As a whole it is believed that they are ready to meet the mine workers and at least formally receive their demands. From this point further moves are a mere guess. The miners have said that the demands must be granted as they stand. This being the case there can be no negotiations but a flat refusal of the demands. Out of this deadlock there may come an opening for negotiations but it is evident that the situation must come to this point before negotiations are opened.

Wage increases, and big ones at that, are not unusual in this day and age so that the miner's demand for a sixty per cent. increase, while seemingly unreasonable—is not shocking. Their revolutionary demands for a six hour work day and a five day work week or a thirty hour week are, however, destined to be the battle ground of the first skirmish after the expected rejection of demand.

DUBOIS FOR THE TICKET

Last week there appeared an editorial in a Clearfield County Democratic newspaper setting forth the claim that DuBois Republicans were up in arms against certain candidates on the Republican ticket. The DuBois Courier promptly nailed this campaign falsehood by saying that there were no sore places in DuBois and that the Republican party would come out of that city with colors flying on November 4th, and the Courier is in a position to know better than one sitting in Pittsburgh writing on the Clearfield county political situation.

BE AN ACTIVE MEMBER

There are few men and women in Clearfield who are not members of the Red Cross. Every one who subscribed and paid the $1 membership fee of the last membership campaign are members and entitled to vote at the regular annual meeting. A regular annual meeting for the election of officers will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. at four o'clock.

During war times the activities of the Red Cross were confined almost exclusively to big wartime activities, the details of which the ordinary member gladly left to the officers of the society. The members put themselves in line as soldiers, obeyed commands and demands and in every way worked with their hands to carry out the national program.

Now we are come to a place in the work of the Red Cross where new work is to be taken up and this work will more largely affect the life of our community. The benefits to be derived from having a Red Cross chapter will come about only through the activity of its members and the zeal and good intentions of the officers elected. Just what these benefits will be is not yet decided. The interest and activity of the members will be a factor in this decision.

First, every Red Cross member should attend the meeting because as a member it is his or her duty to attend the election meeting of the society.

Second, it is the privilege of the member to attend the meeting and participate in the selection of officers.

Third, there is a huge surplus fund of thousands of dollars which can be used for community welfare right here in Clearfield county and the help and advice of every member is needed to direct the expenditure of this fund.

Fourth, those who are not members of the Red Cross but who have helped to create this fund, now look to the members of the society to use it wisely.

Be an active member.

Germany A Menace

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—That Ger-

many is still a menace and that it is up to the allies to see that they are "kept put" if the world doesn't want an eye on the Germans to see that to wake up one day and find another world war on their hands, was the opinion expressed here today to the United Press by Lieut. Gen. Baron Jacques of the Belgian army.

Baron Jacques, who earned fame at the battle of Dixmude, where for seven days, he held the Germans at bay without budging an inch, is touring the United States with King Albert, and expects to take back home with him some lessons in military tactics as used in America.

"Might is right" is the religion of Germany from the officers and doctors

down to the workers. The great war was not a war of the Kaiser but a war of the German people," said Baron Jacques. "Germany still has arms. It is up to the allies to keep them from using them. They don't use them particularly in aviation. I consider the Germans a race of barbarians."

"They always believe in 'Might is Right.' This spirit is bred in the children from birth by their mothers. It will always be necessary to watch them. They went to war because they thought they would take Paris, Belgium, northern France and get rich—loot—and later divide the spoils. The German idea is to loot. They are a band of looters."

Baron Jacques, as a colonel of a Belgian regiment, commanded the

A TIP FROM THE DEVIL

If our Mule and Elephant Weren't so Much Like Lafe and Zeke There's No Telling what we WOULD do

"You Americans have certainly got one regular bang-up country," a Frenchman said to me not long ago, as he looked up from his newspaper. "But what I don't understand is why you don't pull together, instead of against one another."

Which put me in mind of one of the favorite stories of the late Sam Jones, of Georgia, who used to say pretty much the same thing.

It seems that he dreamt he died and went to hell. The very first folks he met up with down there, were Lafe Bradley and Zeke Calloway, two fellow townsmen of his.

In life they had run rival livery stables on the same street, but neither had ever been able to make much headway, despite a prosperous community.

Each spent more time trying to hamstring the other's progress than to get on himself.

Finally a third man came in, served the public well and coped the business of both.

Whereupon Lafe and Zeke up and died and went to hell.

Just as Sam came upon the old rivals, as they sat there, broiling, on the banks of the Brimstone Lake and gnitting their teeth at each other as they'd been doomed to do throughout eternity, the devil, debonaire and smiling, appeared upon the scene.

"Hello, Lafe," he called out jovially, "you and Zeke come here; I want you."

Lafe instantly sprang towards the devil but Zeke grabbed him and pulled him back. Then He started for the devil and Lafe pulled HIM back.

And so on for fifteen minutes, making Old Nick guffaw so that until this day we speak of folks laughing like the devil.

"Well, Lafe," he chortled as soon as he could get his breath, "since you can't agree to come together, come one at a time; you first."

Happy, though in hell, to have put one over on Zeke at last, Lafe trotted up to his master.

"Here I am," he said gleefully, trying to lift both feet at once off the red-hot cinders. "Whatcha want?"

"I've thought it over," said the devil, "and I've decided that I've been too hard on you boys. I'm going to let you and Zeke have anything you ask for, on condition though, that the OTHER has twice as much as the one who chooses. Now go ahead and make a wish."

"Call Zeke," said Lafe. "Let him do the wishin'."

"So YOU can benefit by the double portion, eh?" chuckled the Badman, much pleased. "No," he continued, "YOU'VE got to do the asking. What can I do for you?"

Thus cornered, Lafe nudged his brain for a wise choice. He wanted to go back to earth and be rich; but Zeke would go back first, and be twice as rich. He thought he'd like it cooler in hell; but Zeke would get twice as cool. An ice-cold glass of beer sounded good, but Zeke would get TWO glasses.

Suddenly his face beamed with joy. He had an inspiration. "Poke out one of my eyes!" he begged. Then Sam Jones woke up.

"Lawsy!" he said, "we've got many a Lafe and Zeke among us today!"

I was never greatly impressed by the Germans' bombastic noise. I did believe it would be the greatest conflict the world had yet seen. Talk Salts To Flush Kidneys

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or Bladder troubles you—Salts is fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad, you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

At one time it was the fashion in the Russian army to compose a regiment of men having the same features. In a regiment called Pavlovski, formed by the Emperor. First, all the men had turned-up noses, and therefore resembled him. Another regiment were all marked with the smallpox.

The day chosen for marriages in Greece is usually Sunday, but the day of all days in the year, is the Sunday preceeding Christmas.

HYDE CITY COP WAS RIGHT ON THE JOB

Stoped Tall Blond and Short
Brunette At Riverview
Thinking They Runaways

ONLY WALKING OFF FLESH

The Chief of Police of Hyde City almost covered himself with glory this morning about 7:30 o'clock. According to Mayor Bob Mitchell's latest order "the chief's" beat has been extended to the Pennsylvania station at the Riverview end of the bridge across the Susquehanna below Hyde. This morning as the officer was located at the station he spied a couple of "corn-fed" Second Ward girls beating it up the State road in the direction of his bailiwick. Scenting a possible elopement or at least a double runaway the officer located himself behind the guard wall at the bridge and when the young ladies emerged from the fog the chief very promptly summoned them to halt.

Putting and blowing like a 1913 model Ford both girls instantly obeyed (they were ready to stop anyhow). The blond, who was giving away about thirty pounds to her companion, was too near winded to make reply, but her side-kicker soon had her tongue working and told the "horrid old thing" to go about his business as they were simply out for a walk before breakfast as a means of reducing excess or increasing embonpoint.

The chief apologized, the girls gathered their second wind and returned and say they are so well pleased over their experiment they are going to keep it up all fall. So hereafter when you see a tall fatty and a short fatty beating it up South Second street thru the early morning fog don't get excited. Call The Progress office we will identify them and assure all inquiries as to their purpose and intentions. Salright!

THANKS FROM A. M. E.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and youthfulness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of drk, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous oil recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears dark and lustrous.

FARM BUREAU BULLETIN ATTENTION DAIRYMEN

"ARE YOU PRODUCING MILK AT A LOSS?"

By W. C. Sterrett, County Agent

A fundamental reason for the small degree of success attained by most dairymen is the lack of efficiency on the part of the cows or milk making machines which they use to manufacture milk from raw materials. The problem is the same as that of the factory manager who sought to install machines which will give him maximum yield of finished product per unit of raw material with a minimum outlay for labor and managerial effort.

The cow-testing association is comparable to the efficiency engineer of the factory who discovers the fault in production. Wonderful work is being accomplished by these associations but the dairyman can not make progress without raising each year good animals to replace those of lower efficiency.

After the dairyman has selected the best cows in his herd from which to raise these more efficient animals, he must have a good purebred bull to mate with his cows, in order to insure success. The measure of his success as a breeder and the degree of progress attained is governed almost entirely by the excellence of the sire he uses.

Cooperative or community effort along this line in the form of a "Cooperative Bull Association" will secure for the dairyman the services of a much better sire than his herd had formerly been able to afford. The initial cost to each man is seldom greater than the cost of an ordinary bull. Furthermore he saves from one-half to nine-tenths of the expense of keeping the bull by sharing it with the other members of the association. Also by the exchange of the bulls he has the use of equally high-class sires for a long period of years without any further expense beyond his share of original purchase price of the first bull.

"The typical cooperative bull association is composed of 15 to 30 farmers and jointly owns 4 or 5 bulls, divides its territory into as many 'breeding blocks' and assigns one bull to each block. As many as 50 or 60 cows may belong to the farmers in each block and the bull in the block should be kept on a farm conveniently located. To prevent inbreeding each bull is moved to the next block every two years. If all of the bulls live and prove themselves worthy of being retained for service, no new bull need be purchased for 8 to 10 years.

Ordinarily the purchase price and expense of supporting the bulls are distributed among the members of the association according to the number of cows owned by each.

"The history of the cooperative bull association shows it to be especially adapted to small herds where a valuable bull for each herd would constitute too large a percentage of the total investment."

The principal advantages of the cooperative bull association may be summarized as follows:

1. It provides valuable purebred bulls to breeders at an average investment much lower than the cost of scrub bulls.

2. It reduces the average cost to each breeder of feeding and caring for a bull.

3. It offers an excellent opportunity for intelligent, long-continued line breeding.

4. It gives opportunity for testing out a bull and of using a "tasted" sire as long as he is serviceable.

5. It establishes one breed in a community and encourages the selection of the best blood within that breed.

6. It encourages members to study breeding, improve their methods, combine their efforts to eliminate disease and to form community breeders' associations for buying, selling and advertising their stock.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Rev. Mr. Biddle, pastor of the M. E. church, informed the writer last evening that he was busy perfecting arrangements for starting his revival meetings. The first series will be commenced about the first of November.

Mrs. Maud Davidson, of Buffalo, N. Y., spent several days in town visiting relatives and friends. She will be remembered here before her marriage as Maud Thompson, only daughter of F. L. Thompson, deceased.

We have been requested to announce that the regular monthly Mother's Meeting of the W. C. T. U., will be held at the home of Mrs. Howard McCloskey, on Ridge avenue, on Friday, October 24th, at 2:30 P. M. At this session the report of the delegates to the State Convention will be heard. Do not miss this meeting, and please note the change of date from Thursday instead of Friday as heretofore. Other business of importance will be transacted.

Miss Alice Clute is reported seriously ill at the home of her parents on the South Side.

A pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Connors, who resides on Mable avenue, last Tuesday evening. The event was given in honor of that lady's 49th birthday anniversary. A number of relatives and invited guests were present, and enjoyed a most pleasant evening, and as the time waned and the hour for departing drew nigh, substantial refreshments were served all round. The hostess was the recipient of a number of useful remembrances in the way of gifts from the family.

The many friends of Mrs. Willard Brown, who resides over on the South Side, entered into league with neighbors on Thursday evening, and entered the Brown home, giving that lady a genuine surprise. A delightful evening was spent and ere the guests departed for their various homes, refreshments were served.

Messrs. Chas. Traister of Buffalo, N. Y., and Clinton Traister, of DuBois, dropped into town last Saturday evening for a few hours visit with their brother Burgess Frank Traister.

Rev. Father Lynch, pastor of St. Timothy Catholic church, left yesterday morning for New York city where he will spend the week.

A few months ago an item appeared in the Curwensville column relative to two new buildings that were in course of erection at the Pennsylvania Hide and Leather company's plant. One of the buildings has been completed and equipped and is now in use; the other one for the lower row of buildings will be finished within the next few days. The building on the north side of the big L building is 18x40 feet inside dimension and two stories high. On the first floor which is concrete, are stationed seven toilets, four stalls for shower baths, and eight wash bowls. The entire woodwork is painted white. The room is heated by a system of steam pipes and lighted by a sufficient number of electric lights, with three large double windows on the side and one each at the end. The room is neat and clean and at the end of the working hour in the evening a number of men take to the shower baths, which contain both hot and cold water, hot and cold to water. The room on the second floor is what is termed a rest room, and will be utilized by the men during the noon hour. Tables and chairs will be put in and some other luxuries added for the benefit of those who carry their dinner pails. This room is also lighted and heated by the same system as the lower floor. The other building erected is equipped the same as the one described above and will be used by the employees who work in the beam shop, yard hide house, machine and carpenter shops. These buildings were erected solely for the convenience and comfort of the men. Superintendent Blake has been advocating these improvements for several years, and it was only a few short months ago that he secured the consent of the company to go ahead and use his judgment in the matter. The men certainly appreciate Mr. Blake's interest in their welfare and thank him for his determination in making things around the plant a little more convenient and comfortable for them while it is under his management. Some other minor improvements are contemplated before actual cold weather sets in which will be of vast benefit to all of the employees, both great and small.

A great many people look upon a cemetery as a very gruesome spot and keep as far away from the silent city of the dead as possible during their journey through this vale of tears and sorrow. If these same folks would only visit Oak Hill cemetery, they would have a far different idea. Curwensville people, as a rule, are indeed proud of their cemetery, and consider it one of the most beautiful spots in this county. Hundreds of dollars are spent yearly in keeping the grounds up to a perfect standard, and today almost every burial plot is mowed and trimmed as neatly as the lawns around private residences. Caretaker Fleming has done a vast amount of work within the past month, and the grassy plots are now in readiness for their covering of beautiful white and crystal snow.

MRS. WRIGHT ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Albert Wright Jr., entertained about twenty friends last evening at her home on West Front street, it being the 5th wedding anniversary. Euchre and five hundred were played and Mr. and Mrs. Wright were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

Mrs. Gene Frankenberg, of Buffalo, N. Y., was the only out of town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Mons have returned home from spending the weekend in Cumberland, Md. They motored back accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bishop and Don Merrill. Mrs. Mons brother, who recently returned from overseas after two years and four months service in the U. S. Marine corps.

Mrs. R. D. Baldwin and daughter Ann Bailey returned from Aik today.

REGULAR MEETING OF COUNCIL WAS HELD LAST NIGHT

The regular session of Town Council held in the Borough building last evening was attended by seven of the twelve members. President Fletcher presided and Burgess Chase was also present.

Many matters of interest to the taxpayers were disposed of at this meeting.

Borough Solicitor Urey presented the Ordinance providing for the paving of the alley between the borough lot and A. W. Leonardson's store. Resolutions assessing the cost of improvement of Martin and Spruce streets were also presented by him and unanimously adopted by council following their reading.

The ordinance provides for the paving of the alley with concrete and it is expected that the work will be done this fall.

A petition asking for the continuance of the alley paving through to Walnut street was presented, the property owners agreeing to pay two-thirds the cost of such improvements, and the borough one-third, under the plan adopted by council some eight or ten years ago.

The Borough Solicitor was directed to make application to the State Health department for permit to construct sanitary sewer from West 4th to West 5th avenues along Lawrence township line.

Contract with Dowler & Anderson for rental of borough machinery was presented and President and Secretary authorized to execute same.

Application was made by the Clearfield Park association for fire protection at the park and the secretary was directed to request the Water Company to place two fire plugs in the park.

The Solicitor was directed to prepare an ordinance providing for concrete alley paving from Cherry to Walnut street, between Second and Third streets.

Request for sanitary sewer on Fourth street, East End, was made to council.

The Highway department presented statement of the cost of constructing the concrete alley in rear of old opera house property, showing total to have been $806. Of this amount the borough will pay $267.67 and the abutting property owners the remainder.

Bringing Outdoors Indoors
BY CAROLYN SHERWIN BAILEY
Bringing outdoors indoors—how cheerful it sounds! A few sprays of trim leaves, a few little green vines with their roots and berries, a tiny pine tree, and you can make a host of pretty decorations for your room.

Leaves Waxed on Branches
If you are clever with your hands, you can wax the autumn leaves on branches so as to keep their lovely gold, crimson, and brown until spring. Run an iron that is not too hot lightly over beeswax. Then iron each leaf, holding the branch so that the leaf lies flat on several thicknesses of newspaper spread on the ironing board. The glossy wax keeps them from drying and seems even to brighten and deepen their coloring.

Put a spray of the lovely waxed leaves in a tall, straight, plain, white glass or dish. They will transform your room with color.

A Border for Your Room
Cut long, narrow strips of plain wall paper of a neutral tint; tan, gray, or green. On these fasten waxed leaves with glue in an artistic irregular way, large ones alternating with small ones. Tiny ivy leaves are particularly attractive. Lay the strips under a heavy weight until the glue is completely dry. Then make a border for your room by fastening the strips to the wall with thumb tacks.

A Woody Garden
Get a small round goldfish jar about the size used for three fish. Have a circular piece of glass cut to fit the top exactly. Spread a thick layer of dampened earth in the bottom. Plant the roots of little wild vines in it. They will need to be set in thickly to be pretty. If you were able to find a little pine tree about three inches tall, plant it in the middle and arrange the vines, with their bright berries, around the edge. Sometimes a very tiny fern plant will live bravely in one of these woody indoor gardens.

When the jar is well filled, sprinkle lightly with water and put on the cover. Decorate the top with a pretty ribbon. Place it where it will catch the morning sunshine.

NOT MANY PHEASANTS BAGGED

The pheasant and squirrel season opened for hunters yesterday, but generally throughout this section were not overburdened with game. At the end of the first day's hunt, Jack Mohney and Jay Waugh each succeeded in downing three pheasants, and they were the most successful hunters we have heard of thus far.

Pheasant hunters who ranged the mountains, report deer very plentiful this fall.

Treasurer Kline's office issued 427 hunters' licenses yesterday, and the total number now issued has reached 5,000.

Having Fun with Pulleys
BY CLAYTON M. RYDE
"If you know how," said Uncle Bob, "you can have more fun with pulleys than with anything else."

"Learn to make your own pulleys and save buying them. Take a small silk spool and with a knife or file deepen the groove to hold a cord running over it. A strip of tin, 1 inch by 5 inches, cut from a can, may be bent into a shackle, and a wire or nail will do for the axle."

Apartment Freight Elevator
"An apartment freight elevator is fun for boys in the city. It runs from the first floor back porch to the top floor porch outside the house. The picture shows how it is built."

with a cigar box (X), running between cord guides (G, G). It is pulled up and down by a continuous loop of cord running over four pulleys (P, P, P, P) and once around the crank wheel (C). An old go-cart wheel with the tire off makes a fine crank wheel.

Gravity Scooter
"Between two clothes posts or trees you can build a gravity scooter. Fasten two pulleys (P, P) at the top and bottom of one post, and around them run a continuous cord that takes one turn around the crank wheel (C). In this continuous cord is a knot (K) from which a cord track (T) runs to a screw-eye (S) in the other post. The cigar box car (X) rides on the track on grooved spools. When you turn the crank one way it lowers K and the car scoots toward you. When you crank the other way you raise K above S and the car scoots away."

Tackle Lifter
"A tackle lifter with which one pint of water will raise almost five pints can be made with five pulleys, as shown in the picture, but the bucket with one pint must have room enough to move five times as far. In the same way you can build other kinds of tackle to multiply lifting power. Your school physics book, or the big dictionary, will show various combinations."

Count Fifty! No Rheumatic Pain

Don't suffer! Instant relief follows a rubbing with old "St. Jacobs Liniment."

Stop "dosing" rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Liniment" conquers pain. It is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never dis appoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones!

Popular Appreciation of the dependability of the Educator Shoe has created a demand for this shoe for all ages, from the cradle to the "grown-ups." The principle of "comfort first" together with the reasonable prices combines two logical reasons, why the EDUCATOR shoe is so popular.

In the Educator shoe much has been gained in comfort for children who are too young to voice their wants, but not too young to enjoy the comfort of this sensible shoe.

Included in our new shipment of Educator shoes for men are the

Ko-Ko calf, the Vici kid in russet brown $12.00
Black vici kid $12.00
Toney red calfskin, double sole $12.00
Black calfskin, double sole $12.00

Large Assortment

Other shoes for men in this new shipment include black and tan kid with round toe, good looking $6.00 to $9.00. Ladies' shoes, high tops, in black, tan and grey, with both the French and Military heels, from $5.00 to $12.00.

LOCK HAVEN FIRST
TO DEFEAT C. H. S.
THIS SEASON

The Red and Black eleven lost to Lock Haven High Saturday by the score of 28-7—the first game they have lost this season. Although figures are generally supposed to be pretty truthful, this score is in no sense indicative of the fine game of football Lock Haven fans were privileged to see. Both teams played in good form and the game was interesting from start to finish.

Lock Haven scored first, shortly after play started when Captain G. Rathgeber was shoved over Clearfield's line for touchdown No. 1. A very few minutes later Captain Butler did the same trick for our boys.

The down-river lads tightened up from this point on, but our boys put up a strenuous battle and kept the Lock Haven team working hard every minute. Every man was on the job and did his best to "bring back the bacon", but despite the fact that they did good work with the "pigskin" they were unable to claim the desired part of the porker's anatomy.

Butler played an especially good game at fullback. His end runs and line plunges were always good for a gain and it was a twenty-five yard run made by him that gave C. H. S. her score.

G. Rathgeber, captain, played the star part for Lock Haven, all their plays being centered on his work.

The two teams lined up for the kick-off as follows:

YORK WEATHER
PROPHET SEES
A LONG WINTER

YORK, Oct. 21—The winter of 1919-20 will be exceptionally severe, according to Andrew Falner, a tanner of hides and pelts of game and furbearing animals, who bases his predictions on their length of fur. Many of the hardest winters of the last thirty years have been faithfully forecasted by this man who depends entirely in forming his judgment on the condition of the hides and pelts brought to his place by gunners and trappers.

This year he has observed that uniformly the fur is heavy, long and sleek, which, he says, is an indication that nature has prepared the furbearers for a long and trying spell of winter weather.

On hundreds of pelts brought in this season even the flank fur is almost as long as that on the backs. This, he says, indicates long periods of extremely low temperature. Raccoon and opossum skins of last season present a strong contrast with those of this year, the furs being short on the backs and light and short on the flanks.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils
Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

HOW MEN OF PERFECTLY INNOCENT PURSUITS ARE HANDICAPPED

Dog-whippers, bulldog burners, pit-breakers, beetle-cutters, and worm-trimmers sound like extremely cruel individuals; though, as a matter of fact, they follow perfectly innocent vocations in metal mining and manufacturing. Mule-taming, in comparison, would appear a mild, if puzzling, job to those ignorant of the existence of mules, which are not quadrupeds but an important part of the machinery in the cotton and woolen industries.

A man might reasonably be reluctant to engage in certain trades if he paid too much attention to the names of some of the people in them. He might shun the acquaintance of slushers, twisters, and even of slayers in the textile manufacture: of sluggers and branders (boot trade), of deadening men and wipers-out (glass trade), of bumpers (textile engraving), of bat-making, punchers (cocoa), scratchers (lamps), spitters (needles), tangle-makers (nails), and rippers (coal mining).

Similarly, it would be wrong to refuse our confidence to grafters, hot-air men, and jolliers (none of whom have any connection with stories of American crooks), or to buckers, gas-sers, nebblers, and underhand picklers. They all play a harmless part in the industry of their technical names, when misunderstood, give a totally false impression of their characters.

It purifies the blood, clears the skin and chases away that worn out feeling. Brew a cup tonight—just like you make tea. You'll like it.

PRESIDENT FULLY INFORMED ON THE
TREATY SITUATION AND ALL OTHER
MATTERS BEFORE THE NATION TODAYDICTATES LENGTHY LETTER TO SECRETARY
LANE TO BE USED TO HOLD
CONFERENCE IN LINE

DID NOT REST WELL LAST NIGHT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—President Wilson has been informed of the treaty situation in the Senate through a letter from Senator Hitchcock, it was learned at the White House today. Wilson has been advised of other matters such as the threatened coal strike and the deadlock in the industrial conference by means of reports from Secretary Tumulty.

His physicians were hopeful today that no further complications like the gland swelling and indigestion from which he has suffered would again appear and hinder his progress toward recovery. Both these ailments responded to treatment. The President's general condition improves and he is gaining strength. He is resting well, has a good appetite and is gaining in strength. His condition this morning continues the same according to official information in advance of the statement of his physician.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—President Wilson did not seem so well last night but his condition was improved this morning according to a bulletin issued by his physician at 11:30 a. m. today. "The President's condition remains the same as before. A chemical examination of the blood shows the kidneys to be functioning normal. He was not so well last night but showed no signs of fatigue this morning."

The President insisted on writing a letter to Secretary Lane with regard to the threatened disruption of the industrial conference. His physicians advised against it but were compelled to yield. Both because of the President's wishes and the pressure brought to bear by high officials of the government for him to take a hand. The President was not fatigued by his efforts in writing the letter according to Grayson. This was a surprise in view of the fact that Wilson did not sleep well during the night.

Interest of the President in the industrial conference does not mean any general resumption of work will be permitted, Grayson said. The prescription of a complete and absolute rest will remain in force except in matters of unusual moment where executive action is imperative he declared.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—President Wilson today drafted a letter to the Industrial Conference. Secretary Lane, chairman of the conference, said he expected to read the letter to the conference before the noon adjournment. The nature of the letter was not stated in advance but it was expected to advocate that the conference get together in the fact of the country's serious industrial situation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—President Wilson's letter to the Industrial Conference is with regard to the disrupting of the conference it was said at the White House today. The letter which is 2 1/2 typewritten pages was dictated by the President from his bed. He signed it with a lead pencil.

The letter is considered private from the President to Lane, but Lane may use it if he considers it wise. Lane, he said, would use his discretion about reading the letter to the conference. It was written on the theory, he said, that there was some danger of certain members or elements in the conference disrupting it and it was written to prevent that. Personally, he said he did not feel any real danger of it and said it might not be necessary to read the letter.

CAPTURE OF PETROGRAD PROGRESSES
NEAREST REPORT TO CONFIRMATION

LONDON, Oct. 21—The capture of Petrograd is progressing favorably for the anti-Bolshevik forces according to official and semi-official dispatches received here today. A statement of the British war office said the capture of Datchina and Krasnos to the southwest had been confirmed and that a cavalry detachment has completed the work of going to Petrograd for communication with the interior. The Bolsheviks continue to increase their stores of ammunition and guns.

TUBERCULOSIS
DRIVE

Announced Last Evening That
Dr. McGrea, Authority on
Disease, Will Talk Here

MASS MEETING NOV. 13TH.

At a meeting of the publicity committee for the coming drive against tuberculosis in the High School auditorium last evening, plans were formulated whereby the lecture to be given by Dr. McGrea on November 13th will be given the widest publicity locally and in the surrounding territory.

Dr. C. C. Reeve, as chairman of the meeting, outlined the purpose of the County Medical Society in getting Dr. McGrea here. The meeting was then turned into a round table discussion of the situation and short talks were made by Drs. Quigley, Gorion, Frantz, Reiley and Bailey.

Dr. Gordon, as the local representative of the State Board of Health, gave some statistics that were both enlightening and at the same time alarming. He stated that in the commonwealth of Pennsylvania there were 125,000 cases of tuberculosis, in various stages, under the supervision of the state board. These cases, he continued, were only those that had been brought under the board's jurisdiction and there was positively no accurate knowledge of how many persons afflicted with the White Plague who were at large and who were spreading the dread scourge throughout the state. Assuming that Clearfield was not more immune to the disease than any other community and basing his estimate on population Dr. Gordon stated that there must be at least 1250 cases of tuberculosis in Clearfield county, and that at least 1150 cases were in the advanced stages.

Following Dr. Gordon, Dr. McGrea outlined the purpose of Dr. McGrea's talk. It will be the purpose of the coming lecturer, who is one of the most, if not the most, eminent authority on tuberculosis in the state, to outline how tuberculosis may be prevented and how this dread disease that is taking greater toll of human lives in this state every year than was lost during the late war, could be stamped out of this community.

There were representatives of all but three of Clearfield's industrial plants present and the following men were named as a committee to spread the propaganda of the coming lecture:

S. T. McClure will have charge of the industries.
Prof. Kopp the Public Schools.
Charles T. Kurtz, Commercial houses.

Rev. W. W. Hartman, Churches.
C. P. Disher, Railroad and Shopmen.
J. Vail, Trammien and Parochial Schools.

Matt Savage, general publicity and newspaper.
There was also present a representative of the organizing force of the Red Cross Society, who outlined the good to be accomplished in anti-tuberculosis work by the employment of a Community Nurse. He urged that in connection with the coming campaign, that Clearfield bend every

BURGESS CHASE
WARNS AGAINST
UNLAWFUL PLAY

During the past two or three weeks numerous complaints have been lodged with borough officials on the conduct of young people who have a wrong conception of the proper method to celebrate the Halloween season. Property has been destroyed and much unsightly and soap and chalk have been used to write vulgar sentiments and phrases on windows and side walks. The Progress has received no less than a dozen calls from people who have stood as much of this thing as they can and who wanted something published which would have a restraining effect on "Young America."

We would not deny any red-blooded youngster the right to do a little bit of devilment on Halloween and are inclined to shut one eye on such occasions but it appears that many have overstepped the mark already this year and in so doing they have deprived themselves, and others of a real good time later on as the Burgess says the expensive fun must stop. He issued a proclamation which is published in the following paragraphs:

PROCLAMATION!

TO PARENTS AND CHILDREN

Having received a number of complaints from good citizens in various sections of our city as to the mischievous actions of young people who have been committing depredations of one kind or another, destroying and mutilating property under the excuse of Halloween, I hereby give notice that such deplorable conduct has forced me to decide to enforce a curfew ordinance and as parents are responsible for the acts of their children I give them this due warning that those over twenty years of age will be responsible themselves for any unlawful acts. Such disgraceful conduct must stop at once or we will be compelled to punish the offenders.

We do not wish to place costs on anyone, therefore to avoid this unpleasant duty we desire that all parents warn their children of the consequences of unlawful acts and save costs, expenses and unpleasantness.

Yours for the public good
JOHN M. CHASE, Burgess

FITZPATRICK AT WASHINGTON TO
ENLIST AID OF BROTHERHOODS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—John Fitzpatrick, leader in the steel strike, arrived here this morning for a conference tonight with the heads of the four big railroad brotherhoods who are here to attend the national industrial conference. Fitzpatrick, it is understood, plans to ask assistance from the brotherhoods. Railroad chiefs refused to discuss Fitzpatrick's action. They indicated, however, that it would be useless for him to ask for a sympathetic walk out by all railroad workers.

All persons who have contributed $100 to the Red Cross of this District are members of the Clearfield Chapter, and they are therefore entitled to a vote, and are urged to attend the annual meeting for the election of officers at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

BORO REPUBLICANS
MEET AT COURT
HOUSE TONIGHT

Clearfield Borough Republicans will open the campaign with a meeting in the Arbitration room of the Court House tonight at which plans will be laid for a vigorous campaign to be waged between now and November 4th, the date of the general election. It is expected that owing to the increased Republican registration there will be considerable interest manifested by party workers and one of the biggest local meetings ever held is confidently looked for tonight. The increased registration indicates that the thinking men of the county are accepting Republican doctrine and those who have been Republicans have had many experiences recently which have tended to strengthen their faith. Primarily the meeting tonight is for the Vigilance committee but Chairman, A. R. Chase wants to see every Republican in the borough and will make them all welcome if they turn out tonight. No doubt many of the candidates will be present and there will be speechmaking and a generally enjoyable evening.

BOB'S COMING BACK AT LAST

He expects to get home in a day or two.

Charles T. Kurtz, as a member of the executive committee of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, stated in a spirited talk that there was a vast sum of money in the treasury of the Clearfield chapter that could be devoted to the work of eradicating not only tuberculosis but other diseases and urged that a movement be started to utilize these funds for the purpose of securing a good community nurse who would make regular visits to the homes of those not living under proper sanitary conditions and teaching them how to live so that diseases that are entirely avoidable might be stamped out.

Secretary Wilson
Urges Conciliation
In Mine Dispute

Mine Workers Leaders Firm In Demand That All Points Be Concceeded In New Scale

OPERATORS MEET HERE TODAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—Miners and operators were to go into conference with Secretary of Labor Wilson today. Wilson hopes to bring about some agreement. The meeting today is between the miners and the operator's scale committee of the central competitive field comprising Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania.

A compromise to avert the coal strike threatened for November 1, was suggested by Secretary of Labor Wilson to operators and miners who met here today. Wilson urged that the delegates present show a conciliatory spirit, declaring a coal strike would hamper the industries of the nation.

The miners declared they would stick to their demands for a 60 per cent. wage increase six hour day and a five day week.

Operators who held a meeting here yesterday and last night said they could not concede to the demands.

Wilson said he hoped to bring about a basis for negotiations.

The threatened coal strike to take place on November 1st has resulted in more or less activity in coal trade circles. Already we find dealers in cities bidding for coal and offering higher prices for it which will have no other effect than to increase prices again to the consumer of the coal or the consumer of goods to manufacture which coal is used.

The United Mine Workers of this district are in convention at Johnstown today being exhorted to by their leaders to stand firm in their demands for a sixty per cent. increase in wages and not only a six hour day but a five day week as well.

The Operators Association of this Central Field are in session today at the headquarters here in Clearfield. It is said that the session is marked by one of the largest turnouts in the history of the organization. Nothing is given out for publication but it is understood that the meeting is held not for the purpose of taking action on the demand of the miners singly or as a whole, but for the purpose of getting the sentiment of the members as to course of procedure in conceding the demands made by the miners. A perplexing problem before the operators is how far they can go toward giving ear to the miners while the war time contract is in force. Many contend that on account of the government being a party to the contract no move can be made without the consent of the third party. As a whole it is believed that they are ready to meet the mine workers and at least formally receive their demands. From this point further moves are a mere guess. The miners have said that the demands must be granted as they stand. This being the case there can be no negotiations but a flat refusal of the demands. Out of this deadlock there may come an opening for negotiations but it is evident that the situation must come to this point before negotiations are opened.

Wage increases, and big ones at that, are not unusual in this day and age so that the miner's demand for a sixty per cent. increase, while seemingly unreasonable—is not shocking. Their revolutionary demands for a six hour work day and a five day work week or a thirty hour week are, however, destined to be the battle ground of the first skirmish after the expected rejection of demand.

DUBOIS FOR THE TICKET

Last week there appeared an editorial in a Clearfield County Democratic newspaper setting forth the claim that DuBois Republicans were up in arms against certain candidates on the Republican ticket. The DuBois Courier promptly nailed this campaign falsehood by saying that there were no sore places in DuBois and that the Republican party would come out of that city with colors flying on November 4th, and the Courier is in a position to know better than one sitting in Pittsburgh writing on the Clearfield county political situation.

BE AN ACTIVE MEMBER

There are few men and women in Clearfield who are not members of the Red Cross. Every one who subscribed and paid the $1 membership fee of the last membership campaign are members and entitled to vote at the regular annual meeting. A regular annual meeting for the election of officers will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. at four o'clock.

During war times the activities of the Red Cross were confined almost exclusively to big wartime activities, the details of which the ordinary member gladly left to the officers of the society. The members put themselves in line as soldiers, obeyed commands and demands and in every way worked with their hands to carry out the national program.

Now we are come to a place in the work of the Red Cross where new work is to be taken up and this work will more largely affect the life of our community. The benefits to be derived from having a Red Cross chapter will come about only through the activity of its members and the zeal and good intentions of the officers elected. Just what these benefits will be is not yet decided. The interest and activity of the members will be a factor in this decision.

First, every Red Cross member should attend the meeting because as a member it is his or her duty to attend the election meeting of the society.

Second, it is the privilege of the member to attend the meeting and participate in the selection of officers.

Third, there is a huge surplus fund of thousands of dollars which can be used for community welfare right here in Clearfield county and the help and advice of every member is needed to direct the expenditure of this fund.

Fourth, those who are not members of the Red Cross but who have helped to create this fund, now look to the members of the society to use it wisely.

Be an active member.

Germany A Menace

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—That Ger-

many is still a menace and that it is up to the allies to see that they are "kept put" if the world doesn't want an eye on the Germans to see that to wake up one day and find another world war on their hands, was the opinion expressed here today to the United Press by Lieut. Gen. Baron Jacques of the Belgian army.

Baron Jacques, who earned fame at the battle of Dixmude, where for seven days, he held the Germans at bay without budging an inch, is touring the United States with King Albert, and expects to take back home with him some lessons in military tactics as used in America.

"Might is right" is the religion of Germany from the officers and doctors

down to the workers. The great war was not a war of the Kaiser but a war of the German people," said Baron Jacques. "Germany still has arms. It is up to the allies to keep them from using them. They don't use them particularly in aviation. I consider the Germans a race of barbarians."

"They always believe in 'Might is Right.' This spirit is bred in the children from birth by their mothers. It will always be necessary to watch them. They went to war because they thought they would take Paris, Belgium, northern France and get rich—loot—and later divide the spoils. The German idea is to loot. They are a band of looters."

Baron Jacques, as a colonel of a Belgian regiment, commanded the

A TIP FROM THE DEVIL

If our Mule and Elephant Weren't so Much Like Lafe and Zeke There's No Telling what we WOULD do

"You Americans have certainly got one regular bang-up country," a Frenchman said to me not long ago, as he looked up from his newspaper. "But what I don't understand is why you don't pull together, instead of against one another."

Which put me in mind of one of the favorite stories of the late Sam Jones, of Georgia, who used to say pretty much the same thing.

It seems that he dreamt he died and went to hell. The very first folks he met up with down there, were Lafe Bradley and Zeke Calloway, two fellow townsmen of his.

In life they had run rival livery stables on the same street, but neither had ever been able to make much headway, despite a prosperous community.

Each spent more time trying to hamstring the other's progress than to get on himself.

Finally a third man came in, served the public well and coped the business of both.

Whereupon Lafe and Zeke up and died and went to hell.

Just as Sam came upon the old rivals, as they sat there, broiling, on the banks of the Brimstone Lake and gnitting their teeth at each other as they'd been doomed to do throughout eternity, the devil, debonaire and smiling, appeared upon the scene.

"Hello, Lafe," he called out jovially, "you and Zeke come here; I want you."

Lafe instantly sprang towards the devil but Zeke grabbed him and pulled him back. Then He started for the devil and Lafe pulled HIM back.

And so on for fifteen minutes, making Old Nick guffaw so that until this day we speak of folks laughing like the devil.

"Well, Lafe," he chortled as soon as he could get his breath, "since you can't agree to come together, come one at a time; you first."

Happy, though in hell, to have put one over on Zeke at last, Lafe trotted up to his master.

"Here I am," he said gleefully, trying to lift both feet at once off the red-hot cinders. "Whatcha want?"

"I've thought it over," said the devil, "and I've decided that I've been too hard on you boys. I'm going to let you and Zeke have anything you ask for, on condition though, that the OTHER has twice as much as the one who chooses. Now go ahead and make a wish."

"Call Zeke," said Lafe. "Let him do the wishin'."

"So YOU can benefit by the double portion, eh?" chuckled the Badman, much pleased. "No," he continued, "YOU'VE got to do the asking. What can I do for you?"

Thus cornered, Lafe cudgled his brain for a wise choice. He wanted to go back to earth and be rich; but Zeke would go back first, and be twice as rich. He thought he'd like it cooler in hell; but Zeke would get twice as cool. An ice-cold glass of beer sounded good, but Zeke would get TWO glasses.

Suddenly his face beamed with joy. He had an inspiration. "Poke out one of my eyes!" he begged. Then Sam Jones woke up.

"Lawsy!" he said, "we've got many a Lafe and Zeke among us today!"

Talk Salts To Flush Kidneys

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or Bladder troubles you—Salts is fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad, you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

At one time it was the fashion in the Russian army to compose a regiment of men having the same features. In a regiment called Pavlovski, formed by the Emperor. First, all the men had turned-up noses, and therefore resembled him. Another regiment were all marked with the smallpox.

HYDE CITY COP WAS RIGHT ON THE JOB

Stoped Tall Blond and Short Brunette At Riverview Thinking Them Runaways

ONLY WALKING OFF FLESH

The Chief of Police of Hyde City almost covered himself with glory this morning about 7:30 o'clock. According to Mayor Bob Mitchell's latest order "the chief's" beat has been extended to the Pennsylvania station at the Riverview end of the bridge across the Susquehanna below Hyde. This morning as the officer was located at the station he spied a couple of "corn-fed" Second Ward girls beating it up the State road in the direction of his bailiwick. Scenting a possible elopement or at least a double runaway the officer located himself behind the guard wall at the bridge and when the young ladies emerged from the fog the chief very promptly summoned them to halt.

Putting and blowing like a 1913 model Ford both girls instantly obeyed (they were ready to stop anyhow). The blondy, who was giving away about thirty pounds to her companion, was too near winded to make reply, but her side-kicker soon had her tongue working and told the "horrid old thing" to go about his business, as they were simply out for a walk before breakfast as a means of reducing excess or increasing embonpoint.

The chief apologized, the girls gathered their second wind and returned and say they are so well pleased over their experiment they are going to keep it up all fall. So hereafter when you see a tall fatty and a short fatty beating it up South Second street thru the early morning fog don't get excited. Call The Progress office we will identify them and assure all inquiries as to their purpose and intentions. Salright!

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and youthfulness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of drk, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears dark and lustrous.

FARM BUREAU BULLETIN ATTENTION DAIRYMEN

"ARE YOU PRODUCING MILK AT A LOSS?"

By W. C. Sterrett, County Agent

A fundamental reason for the small degree of success attained by most dairymen is the lack of efficiency on the part of the cows or milk making machines which they use to manufacture milk from raw materials. The problem is the same as that of the factory manager who sought to install machines which will give him maximum yield of finished product per unit of raw material with a minimum outlay for labor and managerial effort.

The cow-testing association is comparable to the efficiency engineer of the factory who discovers the fault in production. Wonderful work is being accomplished by these associations but the dairyman can not make progress without raising each year good animals to replace those of lower efficiency.

After the dairyman has selected the best cows in his herd from which to raise these more efficient animals, he must have a good purebred bull to mate with his cows, in order to insure success. The measure of his success as a breeder and the degree of progress attained is governed almost entirely by the excellence of the sire he uses.

Cooperative or community effort along this line in the form of a "Cooperative Bull Association" will secure for the dairyman the services of a much better sire than his herd had formerly been able to afford. The initial cost to each man is seldom greater than the cost of an ordinary bull. Furthermore he saves from one-half to nine-tenths of the expense of keeping the bull by sharing it with the other members of the association. Also by the exchange of the bulls he has the use of equally high-class sires for a long period of years without any further expense beyond his share of original purchase price of the first bull.

"The typical cooperative bull association is composed of 15 to 30 farmers and jointly owns 4 or 5 bulls, divides its territory into as many 'breeding blocks' and assigns one bull to each block. As many as 50 or 60 cows may belong to the farmers in each block and the bull in the block should be kept on a farm conveniently located. To prevent inbreeding each bull is moved to the next block every two years. If all of the bulls live and prove themselves worthy of being retained for service, no new bull need be purchased for 8 to 10 years.

Ordinarily the purchase price and expense of supporting the bulls are distributed among the members of the association according to the number of cows owned by each.

"The history of the cooperative bull association shows it to be especially adapted to small herds where a valuable bull for each herd would constitute too large a percentage of the total investment."

The principal advantages of the cooperative bull association may be summarized as follows:

1. It provides valuable purebred bulls to breeders at an average investment much lower than the cost of scrub bulls.

2. It reduces the average cost to each breeder of feeding and caring for a bull.

3. It offers an excellent opportunity for intelligent, long-continued line breeding.

4. It gives opportunity for testing out a bull and of using a "tasted" sire as long as he is serviceable.

5. It establishes one breed in a community and encourages the selection of the best blood within that breed.

6. It encourages members to study breeding, improve their methods, combine their efforts to eliminate disease and to form community breeders' associations for buying, selling and advertising their stock.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Rev. Mr. Biddle, pastor of the M. E. church, informed the writer last evening that he was busy perfecting arrangements for starting his revival meetings. The first series will be commenced about the first of November.

Mrs. Maud Davidson, of Buffalo, N. Y., spent several days in town visiting relatives and friends. She will be remembered here before her marriage as Maud Thompson, only daughter of F. L. Thompson, deceased.

We have been requested to announce that the regular monthly Mother's Meeting of the W. C. T. U., will be held at the home of Mrs. Howard McCloskey, on Ridge avenue, on Friday, October 24th, at 2:30 P. M. At this session the report of the delegates to the State Convention will be heard. Do not miss this meeting, and please note the change of date from Thursday instead of Friday as heretofore. Other business of importance will be transacted.

Miss Alice Clute is reported seriously ill at the home of her parents on the South Side.

A pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Connors, who resides on Mable avenue, last Tuesday evening. The event was given in honor of that lady's 49th birthday anniversary. A number of relatives and invited guests were present, and enjoyed a most pleasant evening, and as the time waned and the hour for departing drew nigh, substantial refreshments were served all round. The hostess was the recipient of a number of useful remembrances in the way of gifts from the family.

The many friends of Mrs. Willard Brown, who resides over on the South Side, entered into league with neighbors on Thursday evening, and entered the Brown home, giving that lady a genuine surprise. A delightful evening was spent and ere the guests departed for their various homes, refreshments were served.

Messrs. Chas. Traister of Buffalo, N. Y., and Clinton Traister, of DuBois, dropped into town last Saturday evening for a few hours visit with their brother Burgess Frank Traister.

Rev. Father Lynch, pastor of St. Timothy Catholic church, left yesterday morning for New York city where he will spend the week.

A few months ago an item appeared in the Curwensville column relative to two new buildings that were in course of erection at the Pennsylvania Hide and Leather company's plant. One of the buildings has been completed and equipped and is now in use; the other one for the lower row of buildings will be finished within the next few days. The building on the north side of the big L building is 18x40 feet inside dimension and two stories high. On the first floor which is concrete, are stationed seven toilets, four stalls for shower baths, and eight wash bowls. The entire woodwork is painted white. The room is heated by a system of steam pipes and lighted by a sufficient number of electric lights, with three large double windows on the side and one at the end. The room is neat and clean and at the end of the working hour in the evening a number of men take to the shower baths, which contain both hot and cold water, hot and cold water. The room on the second floor is what is termed a rest room, and will be utilized by the men during the noon hour. Tables and chairs will be put in and some other luxuries added for the benefit of those who carry their dinner pails. This room is also lighted and heated by the same system as the lower floor. The other building erected is equipped the same as the one described above and will be used by the employees who work in the beam shop, yard hide house, machine and carpenter shops. These buildings were erected solely for the convenience and comfort of the men. Superintendent Blake has been advocating these improvements for several years, and it was only a few short months ago that he secured the consent of the company to go ahead and use his judgment in the matter. The men certainly appreciate Mr. Blake's interest in their welfare and thank him for his determination in making things around the plant a little more convenient and comfortable for them while it is under his management. Some other minor improvements are contemplated before actual cold weather sets in which will be of vast benefit to all of the employees, both great and small.

A great many people look upon a cemetery as a very gruesome spot and keep as far away from the silent city of the dead as possible during their journey through this vale of tears and sorrow. If these same folks would only visit Oak Hill cemetery, they would have a far different idea. Curwensville people, as a rule, are indeed proud of their cemetery, and consider it one of the most beautiful spots in this county. Hundreds of dollars are spent yearly in keeping the grounds up to a perfect standard, and today almost every burial plot is mowed and trimmed as neatly as the lawns around private residences. Caretaker Fleming has done a vast amount of work within the past month, and the grassy plots are now in readiness for their covering of beautiful white and crystal snow.

Dr. Carter's K. & B. Tea Makes Fine Laxative Syrup

Make It at Home and Save About $1.50—Children Love To Take It.

Get form any drug store a package of Dr. Carter's K. & B. Tea. Put contents in a bowl. Add a level teaspoonful of sugar. Mix and pour over this 3 teaspoonful of boiling water. Cover and allow to stand for at least 2 hours. Strain and flavor either with Essence of Peppermint or Wintergreen, according to taste.

Dose for adults, 1 tablespoonful each night or night and morning until a regular movement of the bowels is effected. For children, 1 tablespoonful more or less according to age.

For a real tonic and blood purifier, 1 teaspoonful every night or every other night for at least three weeks. Cut this recipe out and paste it on the bottle.

MRS. WRIGHT ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Albert Wright Jr., entertained about twenty friends last evening at her home on West Front street, it being the 5th wedding anniversary. Euchre and five hundred were played and Mr. and Mrs. Wright were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

Mrs. Gene Frankenberg, of Buffalo, N. Y., was the only out of town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Mons have returned home from spending the weekend in Cumberland, Md. They motored back accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bishop and Don Merrill. Mrs. Mons brother, who recently returned from overseas after two years and four months service in the U. S. Marine corps.

Mrs. R. D. Baldwin and daughter Ann Bailey returned from Aik today.

French authorities estimate that one in every thirty of the Allied soldiers who entered that country, married a French bride.

REGULAR MEETING OF COUNCIL WAS HELD LAST NIGHT

The regular session of Town Council held in the Borough building last evening was attended by seven of the twelve members. President Fletcher presided and Burgess Chase was also present.

Many matters of interest to the taxpayers were disposed of at this meeting.

Borough Solicitor Urey presented the Ordinance providing for the paving of the alley between the borough lot and A. W. Leonardson's store. Resolutions assessing the cost of improvement of Martin and Spruce streets were also presented by him and unanimously adopted by council following their reading.

The ordinance provides for the paving of the alley with concrete and it is expected that the work will be done this fall.

A petition asking for the continuance of the alley paving through to Walnut street was presented, the property owners agreeing to pay two-thirds the cost of such improvements and the borough one-third, under the plan adopted by council some eight or ten years ago.

The Borough Solicitor was directed to make application to the State Health department for permit to construct sanitary sewer from West 4th to West 5th avenues along Lawrence township line.

Contract with Dowler & Anderson for rental of borough machinery was presented and President and Secretary authorized to execute same.

Application was made by the Clearfield Park association for fire protection at the park and the secretary was directed to request the Water Company to place two fire plugs in the park.

The Solicitor was directed to prepare an ordinance providing for concrete alley paving from Cherry to Walnut street, between Second and Third streets.

Request for sanitary sewer on Fourth street, East End, was made to council.

The Highway department presented statement of the cost of constructing the concrete alley in rear of old opera house property, showing total to have been $806. Of this amount the borough will pay $267.67 and the abutting property owners the remainder.

Articulating Outdoors Indoors
BY CAROLYN SHERWIN BAILEY

Bringing outdoors indoors—how cheerful it sounds! A few sprays of trim leaves, a few little green vines with their roots and berries, a tiny pine tree, and you can make a host of pretty decorations for your room.

Leaves Waxed on Branches
If you are clever with your hands, you can wax the autumn leaves on branches so as to keep their lovely gold, crimson, and brown undimmed.

Run an iron that is not too hot lightly over beeswax. Then iron each leaf, holding the branch so that the leaf lies flat on several thicknesses of newspaper spread on the ironing board. The glossy wax keeps them from drying and seems even to brighten and deepen their coloring.

Put a spray of the lovely waxed leaves in a tall, straight, plain, white glass or dish. They will transform your room with color.

A Border for Your Room

Cut long, narrow strips of plain wall paper of a neutral tint; tan, gray, or green. On these fasten waxed leaves with glue in an artistic irregular way, large ones alternating with small ones. Tiny ivy leaves are particularly attractive. Lay the strips under a heavy weight until the glue is completely dry. Then make a border for your room by fastening the strips to the wall with thumb tacks.

A Woody Garden

Get a small round goldfish jar about the size used for three fish. Have a circular piece of glass cut to fit the top exactly. Spread a thick layer of dampened earth in the bottom. Plant the roots of little wild vines in it. They will need to be set in thickly to be pretty. If you were able to find a little pine tree about three inches tall, plant it in the middle and arrange the vines, with their bright berries, around the edge. Sometimes a very tiny fern plant will live bravely in one of these woody indoor gardens.

When the jar is well filled, sprinkle lightly with water and put on the cover. Decorate the top with a pretty ribbon. Place it where it will catch the morning sunshine.

NOT MANY PHEASANTS BAGGED

The pheasant and squirrel season opened for hunters yesterday, but generally throughout this section were not overburdened with game. At the end of the first day's hunt, Jack Mohney and Jay Waugh each succeeded in downing three pheasants, and they were the most successful hunters we have heard of thus far.

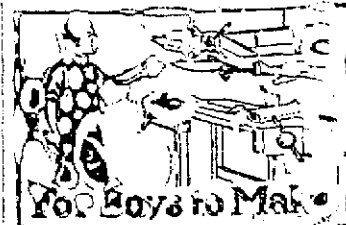

Pheasant hunters who ranged the mountains, report deer very plentiful this fall.

Having Fun with Pulleys
BY CLARENCE M. RYDE

"If you know how," said Uncle Bob, "you can have more fun with pulleys than with anything else."

"Learn to make your own pulleys and save buying them. Take a small silk spool and with a knife or file deepen the groove to hold a cord running over it. A strip of tin, 1 inch by 5 inches, cut from a can, may be bent into a shackle, and a wire or nail will do for the axle."

Apartment Freight Elevator
"An apartment freight elevator is fun for boys in the city. It runs from the first floor back porch to the top floor porch outside the house. The picture shows how it is built."

with a cigar box (X), running between cord guides (G, G). It is pulled up and down by a continuous loop of cord running over four pulleys (P, P, P, P) and once around the crank wheel (C). An old go-cart wheel with the tire off makes a fine crank wheel.

Gravity Scooter

"Between two clothes posts or trees you can build a gravity scooter. Fasten two pulleys (P, P) at the top and bottom of one post, and around them run a continuous cord that takes one turn around the crank wheel (C). In this continuous cord is a knot (K) from which a cord track (T) runs to a screw-eye (S) in the other post. The cigar box car (X) rides on the track on grooved spools. When you turn the crank one way it lowers K and the car scoots toward you. When you crank the other way you raise K above S and the car scoots away."

Tackle Lifter

"A tackle lifter with which one pint of water will raise almost five pints can be made with five pulleys, as shown in the picture, but the bucket with one pint must have room enough to move five times as far. In the same way you can build other kinds of tackle to multiply lifting power. Your school physics book, or the big dictionary, will show various combinations."

LOCK HAVEN FIRST
TO DEFEAT C.H.S.
THIS SEASON

The Red and Black eleven lost to Lock Haven High Saturday by the score of 28-7—the first game they have lost this season. Although the boys are generally supposed to be pretty territorial, this score is in no sense indicative of the fine game of football Lock Haven fans were privileged to see. Both teams played in good form and the game was interesting from start to finish.

Lock Haven scored first, shortly after play started when Captain G. Rathgeber was shoved over Clearfield's line for touchdown No. 1. A very few minutes later Captain Butler did the same trick for our boys.

The down-river lads, tightened up from this point on, but our boys put up a strenuous battle and kept the Lock Haven team working hard every minute. Every man was on the job and did his best to bring back the bacon, but despite the fact that they did good work with the "pegkin" they were unable to claim the desired pass of the poker's analogy.

Butler played an especially good game at fullback. His end runs and line plunges were always good for a gain and it was a twenty-five yard run made by him that gave C. H. S. her score.

G. Rathgeber, captain played the star part for Lock Haven, all their plays being centered on his work.

YORK WEATHER
PROPHET SEES
A LONG WINTER

YORK, Oct. 21—The winter of 1919-20 will be exceptionally severe, according to Andrew Falner, a tanner of hides and pelts of game and fur-bearing animals, who bases his predictions on their length of fur. Many of the hardest winters of the last thirty years have been faithfully forecasted by this man who depends entirely in forming his judgment on the condition of the hides and pelts brought to his place by gunners and trappers.

This year he has observed that uniformly the fur is heavy, long and sleek, which, he says, is an indication that nature has prepared the fur-bearing animals for a long and trying spell of winter weather.

On hundreds of pelts brought in this season even the flank fur is almost as long as that on the backs. This, he says, indicates long periods of extremely low temperature. Reaction and opposum skins of last season present a strong contrast with those of this year, the furs being lost on the backs and light and short on the flanks.

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils
Opens Air Passages Right Up

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dizziness. No struggling for breath at night. No cold or catarrh this season.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relieves instantly.

It's just time. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

Baby Week

All this week interest will center in our Infant's department. Babies can be outfitted in the Leonardson store better than any other time or any other place. Not only are there more coats, hats, bonnets, dresses, rompers, knit booties, sacques, sweaters, etc., but there seems to be prettier ones.

Mothers and all friends of new babies are invited to visit this interesting department during Baby Week as we will have special displays and offerings this week.
